What is Coravin?

The Coravin wine preservation system allows us to pour wine from a bottle without removing the cork. Whether you want a sip, a glass, or more, each will always taste just as amazing as your first – even weeks, months, or years later.

How does a Coravin wine preservation system work?

A needle is inserted through the cork or special screw cap closure. We then tip the bottle and it is pressurised with a layer of argon, an inert gas, over the wine and protects it from oxygen. This allows us to ensure that each glass is in premium condition each time we pour. The cork, or screw cap closure will then reseal naturally and continue to protect the wine.

This gives us the ability to show you wines by the glass that we wouldn't normally open. It is the perfect way to explore, particularly some more Riesling.

Below is a snapshot of some of our favourites that we think are looking great right now.

The Tamarind

Riesling is our thing. We think it is the variety that best suits our food. This is the reason we have showcased our favourites.

Traditionally, a lot of Australians think Riesling is sweet. Well, it can be. These days, most from Australia are dry. The Germans on the other hand, use a rating system based on sugar to qualify their wines.

We have some here for you to try.

With Riesling, it's not just about sugar. Acid has a huge impact on whether the wine appears sweet or not.

The cooler climates of Germany and Alsace, tend to produce wines with texture and acid. Australia on the other hand tends to produce leaner and drier wines.

We also have a few older wines. The development on bottle changes the wines texture and they tend to get almost toasty. The acid line helps these wines age gracefully.

Our food does have some spice. A little bit of sugar manages to tame this and show both the food and wine in the best light.
